The World's Finest RHODODENDRONS and DECIDUOUS AZALEAS

BEAUTY OF LITTLEWORTH—White with a speck of crimson

You Are Welcome to Scenic LINDUM GARDENS

For the past several years I have been collecting from Europe and Canada and the United States the World's finest varieties of Rhododendrons and Deciduous Azaleas. Over 350 varieties are now growing on my hillsides in one of the nations largest and finest collections displayed in a most scenic setting.

In the months of April and May over 5,000 Deciduous Azaleas in 50 of the World's finest varieties shine out in a "Blaze of Glory" in Lindum Gardens overlooking the Tualatin Valley. A riot of colors, ranging from the softest creams through the brightest yellows and oranges and the fieriest reds, march in mass formation up and down the hillsides. These brilliant gems are held in a luminous setting, flanked on both sides with a galaxy of over 300 of the finest varieties of Rhododendrons resting in little cups among the birches on the hillsides, and on the West is the broad expanse of the checkered Tualatin Plains rising to the mountains in the distance. Imported from the gardens of Europe these choice varieties of Rhododendrons and Azaleas are now available to you in our Nursery to add to the splendor of your garden.

PICK YOUR OWN PLANTS

You are welcome evenings, Saturday afternoons and Sundays or by appointment to see this display or to pick out your own plants in the Nursery from a stock of over 15,000 plants. Both the imported plants and those propagated here from fine stock have been grown in very fine soil and have a well established root system. The plants are of the finest quality.

DESCRIPTIONS, PRICES AND DISCOUNTS

It is difficult to describe the shape and quality of all plants in a general list. Therefore, plants specially selected at the Nursery will be priced according to their shape and value irrespective of the general price in this list. A discount of 10% will be given when plants are picked up at the Nursery. A discount of 10% will also be given on orders over $100.00.

PLANTING SEASONS

Rhododendrons will grow in any soil that does not contain lime, is porous without being dry, and is fairly rich in humus. They have a close, fibrous root system and if well watered can be transplanted almost any time, but the best seasons are from September to May or June, preferably in the Fall or Spring. Plant them not more than an inch deeper than they were planted in the Nursery, in a mixture of peat moss or humus and good top soil, preferably half and half, mixed in a hole three feet in diameter by 20 inches deep.

SYMBOLS

First Class Certificates (FCC); Awards of Merit (AM); Hardiness ratings (B) and Asterisks (*) were given by the Royal Horticultural Society of England. Blooming seasons as a rule are from March to June and plants are marked (VE) very early; (E) early; (ME) medium early; (M) mid-season; (ML) medium late; (L) late, and (VL) very late. Most varieties will stand full sun if kept watered, but prefer part shade. Some varieties require part shade and a few full shade with plenty of daylight.

Where the variety is not too new to be rated the (*) asterisks indicate the quality rating given in England. Our opinion may be different.

The range in the hardiness of the Rhododendrons is marked (A), (B), (C), (D) and (E). (A) will stand full exposure to sun and cold. (C) is hardy West of the Cascades and should have partial shade in most cases. (D) and (E) are tender.

(R) Rock Garden plants.

The World's Finest DECIDUOUS AZALEAS

Many garden lovers class these Azaleas at the very top in brilliance, range of color, and beauty of flower. In the months of April and May, they are a mass of strong colors—red, orange, yellow, gold, white, copper, bronze, pink, crimson, mauve, and variegated. We have 50 of the finest varieties blooming for six to eight weeks. First the Molles, then the Occidentales and then the Ghents with the Occidentales still in flower. They like sun.

BEAUTEOUS AND FRAGRANT OCCIDENTALIS HYBRIDS

Comparatively new in the Portland market are these flower gems, which in the Spring present a mass of blooms in the softer, more refined shades and fill the air with delicate perfume. The different varieties form one of the loveliest groups of plants. Their shades range through the pinks, creams, whites, and soft oranges, variegated and blended in pleasing harmony.

*IRENE KOSTER. This is the earliest of the Occidentales to bloom. It has shades of soft light and dark pinks, and fills the air with fragrance. 12 to 15 in. $5.00; 15 to 18 in. $6.00; 18 to 24 in. $7.50.

*EXQUISITA. This is the latest of the Occidentales to bloom. It has the lighter shades of pink and white and light yellow and cream and the leaves start their growth with the flowers still in bloom. 12 to 15 in. $5.00; 15 to 18 in. $6.00; 18 to 24 in. $7.50; 24 to 30 in. $9.00; 30 to 36 in. $10.00 to $12.50.

HARDY GHENT HYBRIDS

Hybridizing of Azaleas started in Ghent, Belgium, in 1825. Since then they have been crossed and recrossed many times to form our present varieties. These Pontica Hybrids or hardy Ghent Azaleas have a wide variety of strong colors, true and variegated. They are red, orange, yellow, light yellow, bronze, white, pink, crimson, mauve, purplish red and mixtures of colors. Their individual flowers are smaller than the Molles and they are later to bloom than the Molles or Occidentalis Hybrids.
